"It is imperative to save these types of animals, as wildlife is important and our global natural inheritance."

RIVER DOLPHIN

SPONSOR AN ENDANGERED
DOLPHIN FOR ONLY
£20.00 per month.

This is the Amazon River boto, a pink dolphin that only lives in the Amazon basin. It is one of five endangered species of river dolphin in the world. The Ganges river dolphin that lives in India and Nepal is also experiencing survival difficulties. Sadly, in China the Yangtze river dolphin was recently declared to be extinct, as they have not been seen for some years.

River dolphins are naturally limited to the river systems in which they were born, imprisoned by salt-water oceans. This is largely because they have evolved with this quality and type of water. Secondly, their diet varies little and their prey species are usually endemic to that river system.

Dolphins cannot live in sewerage or chemically contaminated rivers but need flowing water of the correct acidity or alkalinity.

Therefore pollution is a great danger for these mammals. Moreover, the fish they eat must also be clean and chemical free.

Otherwise the toxic flesh of their prey builds up in their bodies over the years as it does in all predators. When this happens it is a difficult and long term problem to overcome.

Amazon River

Therefore we need to ensure that these river systems are kept clean, and that overfishing by local communities do not reduce the available prey for these fantastic creatures. FES has been to the River Amazon and has helped a local community work with the boto. We have also been to Nepal and will be working with our Nepalese partners to help keep these rivers clean and in good condition.

River dolphins are not as well known as ocean dolphins. So to help their cause, FES are raising awareness of their difficulties throughout all of the medias. So to help their cause, FES is raising awareness of the freshwater species.

For only £20.00 per month you can sponsor a wild dolphin. Just fill in the form or contact us with the details in the order form.

Once this beautiful species has become extinct, it will have disappeared for all time. For them and us, there is no second chance.

Join us and be part of our active group of workers, friends and supporters in a charity where everyone is a volunteer.

Do you want to save one of these sensational animals from extinction? If so, sponsor one of our key species and you will be doing exactly that. It is not expensive to do so. You will also know that you are not a bystander, but are pitching in and making a difference.

You can congratulate yourself that the world will be a better place because of your help.

*"I've promoted the causes of these animals at the Houses of Parliament, the EU Parliament, and inside some United Nation's organisations. My work has only just begun as I feel that many animals are staring down the barrel of extinction every day."
"We can all make a difference!"*
